General Information

Goes over Thirlcrest Academy as a whole.

5. What is Thirlcrest Academy? *

Located in the woods of Thirlcrest County, New England, Thirlcrest Academy is a private school. To shift the interests of the townspeople, the campus is situated far from the neighborhood. The school functions as a correctional center in addition to an educational institution. After enrolling at the school, each student goes through a number of therapy sessions to develop a psychological profile. The academy was founded in 1972 as an alternative to traditional juvenile detention facilities, which frequently denied children an education and endangered their safety.

6. Where is Thirlcrest Academy set, and in what year? *

United States, New England, 2008

Character Information

7. What is your character's name and age? *

Axel Griffin, 16

8. Give a brief backstory for your character (their upbringing, how they ended up at Thirlcrest, and why they became a Hall Monitor).

Axel Griffin was born 1990 November 6th to a veteran and a lawyer. He would be the oldest of 4 children and he would learn to take care of them and become a leader. His father wanted him to be a tough man for his family and himself. He always suspected him to be a soldier when he grew up. His mother wanted to keep him sheltered and away from all the cruel truths of the world but his father wouldn't allow that so he would have to learn quickly about how to work things out.

Once he turned 5 his father wanted him to work on his physical abilities and his mental ones. He would enroll him into a private school and would hire tutors to increase his intelligence and would sign him up for baseball. He would work on both of these and become physically and mentally gifted but Axels got bored. Axel got tired of working with tutors and running around for his father. He would look around for a little while until he found something.

At the age of 10 he would find the Hall monitors. They were a club with students being monitors of school. They would do patrols, routine checking of lockers, and more. He was just in it to get out of class early and have an early lunch (Most students joined to get these perks.) but after a while Axel grew interested in it and would learn to dispend students. He would go thru the ranks in his school monitor and become a top monitor.

Then his school sports started to cause trouble. Then the bullies would team up with them. Hall monitors would have to deal with them a bunch as they caused trouble with the nerds and the faculty by running, messing, and yelling at them. They were being stupid kids and now it was growing even more and just normal kids would be running. Then the monitors started to get into brawls with them as they wouldn't listen and started to attack them. Axel would be brought into this.

Started when he just turned 14 and in his final grade of middle school. He knew that he would have to fight and he was ready. He just started out with detentions and community service but then with more and more trouble happened until it finally broke with a quick jab to Axels face and he didn't take that lightly. Axel grew harder and harder on these rule breakers.

Axel would then be in a huge brawl. A bunch of football and basketball kids meet up with the bullies at the football field to do something that would take the cake. The only reason the kids weren't getting in trouble was because the teachers needed them to stay as they were state champions. Axel thought this would be too much. They would set off FIREWORKS and cause a massive party at the football field for the end of the year. Hall monitors rushed over. They would break the party and start a huge brawl against the troublemakers.

Axel would be right in it and fight alongside his hall monitors. Then it would end once the police were called. The kids ran and most got away but the monitors stayed thinking they wouldn't get in trouble but they did. The school would be shut down and Axels' parents needed something to get rid of this brash behavior. They would send him to Thirlcrest Academy hoping to get rid of this behavior.

9. Give a brief explanation on your character's appearance, personality and any unique views they may have. *

Axel is 5'10 at around 165 pounds and has blonde hair with ocean blue eyes. Axel doesn't have any negative view to any specific and just wants law and order and to punish any trouble makers. Axel has a high ego which makes him think he's above all students who cause trouble on campus, he gets enjoyment seeing students getting punished. He's a very organised person and likes to see everything to be perfect and in order, Sometimes it gets into his way when problems arrive.

Clique Information

10. Give a brief explanation of the Prefect clique's hierarchy. *

[LR] Hall Monitor: They're the entry level rank who undergo a hard application and interview process to join. They wear the same blue vests as normal students only they have stripes on their vest to show authority, they usually do tasks that a normal Prefect wouldn't undergo doing.

[MR] Captain: They're above the Hall Monitors and more respected by the Prefects and suffer less harassment and get taken more serious by students. They have the power to give out detentions to student, their uniform is like the Hall Monitor expect Captains have Golden Armbands.

[HR] Prefects: Prefects are handpicked by the headmaster, they command authority and bring fear to Students on campus. They stand out by wearing teal striped vests and navy blue crested blazers, Prefects are dismissed from certain rules in the school which makes them more likely to abuse their powers. They also carry a paddle for self-defense and for punishing students.

[2IC] Deputy Head-Prefect: The right hand man to the Head Prefect known as the Chief Prefect, this rank isn't really recognized by faculty it still plays a important part to the school as he fills the spot for Head Prefect when absent.

[1IC] Head Prefect: The highest rank in the Prefect Hierarchy is Chief Prefect or also know as "Head Boy" is one of the most respected and trusted students on campus. Despite it being the highest rank it still shares the same authority and privileges as the other Prefects.

11. What power and authority does a Hall Monitor have? *

Hall Monitor has the least amount of power in the clique and can't really boss around the students, they really only report problems back to their superior rank.

12. What is the Prefects' "turf"? What about Hall Monitors? *

The Prefects don't really have a main turf besides the Prefects Lounge, which is the only place on campus with sugary sweets and drinks which was provided by the School Administration team. Captains and Hall Monitors aren't permitted in the Prefects Lounge. Beating sometimes take place in there when a jacket is hung up on the door, which every student knows is occurring which brings more of a fearful reputation on the clique.

13. What are the two "grey category" offences outlined the Punishment Handbook? *

Vandalism and Contraband

Scenario Questions

14. One of your fellow Hall Monitors has been causing issues with you. What do you do? *

I'd most likely tell them to drop issue entirely as we are in the same clique and shouldn't be hostile or having issues with each other. If that doesn't work I'd most likely tell a Higher Up so he/she can resolve the issue between us.

15. Someone with a grudge is looking to "expose" one of the other Hall Monitors. They ask you to help them. What do you do? *

I wouldn't get involved as it's none of my business and most likely report this issue to a Higher Up to resolve it so it doesn't cause some sort of beef in the clique.

16. A Prefect has been causing issues with you. What do you do? *

I'd tell him to calm down and not cause issues as he will ruin our clique aillance which would also ruin our loyalty to the clique.

17. You catch a group of preps beating up another student. What do you do? *

I wouldn't be able to stop the fight head on so I would call for backup first to have a chance to break it up. If people are on the scene and we have enough we can break it up. If not then we will just wait until it finishes and maybe get some faculty to help us or me. Take the KO'd to the nurse or EMR if they need it, and punish the preps accordingly.

18. Students who work in the pit or hole use their respective locations to ambush you and beat you up. What do you do? *

I'd try to hold my ground and avoid getting KO'D and would try to call for backup, If there's no backup or it doesn't arrive on time I would hold my ground till I get KO'D as I am outnumbered in this situation.
